

Privacy Notice

Introduction

Prosum Medical Limited has a responsibility to document how we will protect your personal data. This is a legal requirement of the UK Data Protection Act (DPA 2018), Part 2, within the UK GDPR 'Right to be Informed'.

We are committed to maintaining the trust and confidence of our clients, contacts, staff, and visitors.

This Privacy Notice will outline our responsibilities to you. We endeavour to treat personal data and confidential organisational data with equal care and respect.

Prosum Medical Limited will be the Data Controller when selling goods to a buyer, and the buyer will act as the Data Processor.

Prosum Medical Limited does not sell or pass on personal data to third parties for marketing purposes.

In this Privacy Notice we have provided information on when and why we collect your personal information, how we use it, the limited conditions under which we may disclose it to others and how we keep it secure.

This Privacy Notice was last updated in June 2025.

1.0 Key Terms

1.1 Whilst every effort has been made to outline our responsibilities to you in as clear, concise, and easy to understand manner as possible, we do need to use certain terms throughout this Privacy Notice.

1.2 We will now provide an easy-to-understand definition of each term:

- Business Continuity Plan (BCP): This is a prevention and recovery system for potential threats, such as natural disasters or cyberattacks. The BCP is designed to protect personnel and assets and make sure they can function quickly when a disaster strikes.
- Data Controller: A Data Controller has the responsibility of deciding how personal data is processed, the purpose for the data processing, and how to securely protect the personal data.
- Data Processing Agreement (DPA): Whenever a Data Controller uses a Data Processor to process personal data on their behalf, a written contract needs to be in place between the parties. Similarly, if a processor uses another organisation (i.e. a Sub-Processor) to help it process personal data for a Data Controller, it needs to have a written contract in place with that Sub-Processor. This is commonly referred to as a DPA.
- Data Processor: In a comparable way to Data Controllers, Data Processors must protect people's personal data. However, they only process it in the first place on behalf of the Data Controller. They would not have any reason to have the personal data if the Data Controller had not asked them to do something with it.
- Data Protection Act (DPA 2018): The DPA 2018 sets out the legal data protection framework in the UK. It contains three separate data protection regimes:
 - Part 2: sets out a general processing regime (the UK GDPR).
 - Part 3: sets out a separate regime for law enforcement authorities; and
 - Part 4: sets out a separate regime for the three intelligence services.
- Data Subject: A Data Subject is a living person who can be identified from personal data.
- GDPR: This stands for General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the UK's agreed standards for data protection that are also written into UK law through the Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 2018).
- Incident Response Plan (IRP): This is a document that outlines an organisation's procedures, steps, and responsibilities of its incident response programme, for example when responding to a personal data breach.
- Individual Rights: In UK data protection law, individuals have rights over their personal data. These rights allow the individual to ask the Data Controller to do something or stop doing something with their personal data. There are eight individual rights.

- Information Commissioner's Office (ICO): The Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) is the UK's independent body set up to uphold information rights.
- Lawful Basis: A lawful basis is the legal reason or legal grounds relied upon for the processing of an individual's personal data. There are six lawful bases to choose from: consent, contract, legal obligation, legitimate interest, public task, and vital interests.
- Personal Data: Personal data is information about who you are, where you live, what you do, and more. It is all information that identifies you as a Data Subject.
- Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations 2003 (PECR): PECR sits alongside the DPA 2018 and the UK GDPR. This legislation gives people specific privacy rights in relation to electronic communications, and electronic processing of their personal data.
- Processing: Processing means taking any action with someone's personal data, including processing the data for a specific purpose, storing the data, and archiving the personal data.
- Sub-Processor: A Sub-Processor acts under the instructions of the Data Processor, meaning that they may process individuals' personal data on behalf of the Data Processor. Prosum Medical Limited will always seek the permission of the Data Controller before appointing any Sub-Processors.

2.0 Scope

2.1 The scope for Prosum Medical Limited is any Data Subject, whose personal data is processed upon instruction, in line with UK privacy legislation including the DPA 2018, PECR (2003), and UK GDPR.

2.2 We also acknowledge any additional responsibilities requested by the industry regulator in the UK, the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).

2.3 The DPA 2018 and UK GDPR have a material scope covering personal data that is processed either electronically or is processed as part of a physical paper filing system.

2.4 Prosum Medical Limited will adhere to the seven UK GDPR data processing principles when handling personal data:

- Lawfulness, Fairness, and Transparency.
- Purpose Limitation.
- Data Minimisation.
- Accuracy.
- Storage Limitation.
- Integrity and Confidentiality (Security); and
- Accountability.

2.5 All associates and employees of Prosum Medical Limited who interact with Data Subjects are responsible for ensuring that this Privacy Notice is drawn to their attention, at the earliest available opportunity.

3.0 Lawfulness

3.1 Prosum Medical Limited is a private limited company, based in England, under company registration number 08681398 complying with the laws of the United Kingdom, paying further reference to the Companies Act (2006).

3.2 Prosum Medical Limited is registered with the ICO under registration number ZB919854.

3.3 Prosum Medical Limited acts as a Data Controller and Data Processor. We have our own measures for ensuring compliance with the UK data controller Article 30 responsibilities (personal data we are legally responsible for). In addition, we are responsible for the personal data that we process (on behalf of the Data Subject and others).

3.4 Prosum Medical Limited also determines the scope of the personal data processing, what personal data we process, and for what purpose.

3.5 From time to time we may appoint Data Processors on behalf of Prosum Medical Limited. We will always ensure that a written agreement is in place with each of our Data Processors documenting how personal data will be processed, safeguarded, and stored. Prosum Medical Limited has the overall responsibility for all Data Processors.

3.6 Prosum Medical Limited uses lawful bases, as set out in Article 6 of the UK GDPR, when we process your personal data:

- Contract - personal data is processed by us for the purposes of providing our quality and cost-effective medical products to the health systems around the world and performing our contractual responsibilities;
- Legal Obligation – we process personal data to meet a requirement set out in UK law or statute, and
- Legitimate Interests – we process personal data to provide information on products, services, events, or company details that you have requested or which we feel may be of interest to you, where you have consented to be contacted for such purposes. In addition, we may process personal data under legitimate interest, to enable solicited direct marketing to existing clients under the PECR 'soft opt-in' exemption.

3.7 Prosum Medical Limited may transfer personal data we collect about you to countries outside the UK, including the EEA/EU. We treat each international data transfer individually and assess the risk associated with the transfer and whether a suitable level of adequacy with UK data privacy legislation is available, within the country to where the personal data is being transferred.

3.8 Data transfers between the UK the EU/EEA can flow freely under the 'Adequacy Decision' agreed between the UK and European Parliament on 27th June 2021. This adequacy agreement is expected to last until 27th December 2025, after which this will be reviewed and our Privacy Notice amended accordingly. If the international data transfer is outside the EU/EEA/UK then risk assessment criteria and appropriate safeguards would be put in place, such as Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs). We would then seek the explicit consent of the Data Subject.

4.0 Fairness

4.1 Prosum Medical Limited processes personal data in a fair way. We do this by putting the individual's rights at the heart of all processing with regards to personal data.

There are eight individual rights:

- Right to be informed – Data Subjects have the right to know why we are collecting and processing personal data, this right is met by the provision of this Privacy Notice and any subsequent privacy documentation.
- Right of access – you have the right to know what personal data we have on record and request a copy.
- Right of rectification – you have the right to correct personal data that we hold about you that is inaccurate or incomplete.
- Right to be forgotten – in certain circumstances you can ask for the personal data we hold about you to be erased from our records.
- Right to restriction of processing – where certain conditions apply you have a right to ask us to only process your personal data for certain processing activities.
- Right of portability – you have the right to have the personal data we hold about you transferred to another Data Controller.
- Right to object – you have the right to object to certain types of data processing such as marketing; and
- Right to object to automated processing, including profiling – you also have the right to object to the legal effects of automated processing or profiling.

4.2 Prosum Medical Limited will only handle personal data in ways that individuals would reasonably expect and not use it in ways that have unjustified adverse effects on them.

4.3 Prosum Medical Limited will obtain personal data in a fair way. We will seek explicit consent from the Data Subject or securely transfer personal data into the business where a lawful base for processing can be identified from Article 6 of the UK GDPR, as identified in clause 3.7 above.

4.4 Prosum Medical Limited always considers the rights and freedoms of Data Subjects when processing personal data. This could be for individuals or those part of a wider group.

4.5 Prosum Medical Limited will have a written agreement with each client setting out the contractual terms, often set out in the terms of engagement and additional terms and conditions.

5.0 Transparency

5.1 Transparency is fundamentally linked to fairness. Prosum Medical Limited will always be clear, open, and honest with people from the start, about who we are, and how, and why we need to use your personal data.

5.2 Prosum Medical Limited will inform clients and Data Subjects from the outset regarding the types of personal data we need to process, usually within our business terms, contract and engagement documentation, this Privacy Notice, and other privacy documentation.

5.3 Prosum Medical Limited processes the following personal data types as a minimum:

- Contact Data (e.g. name, email addresses, telephone numbers, addresses).
- Finance Data (e.g. bank details, payroll data, National Insurance numbers).
- Identity Data (e.g. date of birth, ID documentation such as a UK driver's licence, UK passport, or utility bill).
- Third Party Contact Data (e.g. next of kin emergency contact details).

5.4 Prosum Medical Limited informs individuals about all personal data processing in a way that is easily accessible and easy to understand, using clear and plain language. We do this ensuring all Prosum Medical Limited's employees receive annual data protection and UK GDPR training, whilst having a company information governance framework with up-to-date policies, procedures, and processes.

5.5 Prosum Medical Limited hope we can resolve any query or concern you raise about our use of your personal data. You can contact Prosum Medical Limited in the first instance at any time by emailing info@prosummedical.co.uk.

5.6 Should we not be able to resolve the complaint; you have the right to lodge a complaint with the lead authority. The lead authority in the UK is the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), who can be contacted by visiting www.ico.org.uk.

6.0 Purpose Limitation

6.1 Prosum Medical Limited will always be clear about what the purpose is for any personal data processing from the very start. We process your personal data for the following purposes:

- To provide our quality and cost-effective medical products to health systems around the world, whilst supporting healthcare workers to improve people's health and wellbeing.
- To enable us to invoice you for our products and services.
- To maintain and administer our software systems and IT infrastructure.
- To provide information on products, services, and events which we feel may be of interest to you, where you have consented to be contacted for such purposes or by way of a lawful legitimate interest.
- To better understand the needs of our customers and how we can improve our products and services.
- To answer requests that we receive from data subjects including prospects, clients, employees, suppliers, and trusted partners.
- To respond to those that might be interested in working for Prosum Medical Limited.
- To fulfil our legal obligations including money laundering and identification checks.
- To use in the investigation and/or defence of potential complaints, disciplinary proceedings, and legal proceedings.
- To notify you about important legal changes to the products/services Prosum Medical Limited provides.
- If you are an existing contact or customer, we will contact you by electronic means (email) with information about products and services which you have previously purchased from us or enquired about. If you are a new customer, and where we permit selected third parties to use your data, we (or they) will contact you by electronic means only if you have consented to this. You can choose to not receive these types of communication by contacting us (Right to Object – Paragraph 4.1); and
- In response to you with regards to any suspected data breaches, security incidents, and responses to any received Subject Access Requests (SARs).

6.2 Prosum Medical Limited will record our purposes for personal data processing as part of our contract obligations. We will also specify them in any additional privacy documentation provided.

6.3 Prosum Medical Limited will only use your personal data for a new purpose if this is either compatible with the original purpose, or we obtain consent, or we have a clear lawful obligation, or function set out in UK law.

6.4 Where relevant, Prosum Medical Limited, may also share personal data with third parties, such as:

- Trusted third-party partners who we work alongside and who process personal data on our behalf, with regards to agreements and contracts, or for the provision of supplementary support services (e.g. banking, Information and Communications Technology (ICT), and legal services). Disclosure of the nominated trusted third-party partner would be provided at the engagement/contract stage and a relevant Data Processing Agreement (DPA) would be put in place to protect all personal data, from a Data Controller, Data Processor, and Data Subject perspective (if relevant).
- Fraud prevention agencies, money laundering agencies, and other professional associations; and
- Regulators and law enforcement agencies, including the Police, HM Revenue and Customs, or any other relevant authority who may have jurisdiction. We would always inform you ahead of acting on any instructions to proceed.

7.0 Data Minimisation

7.1 Prosum Medical Limited always ensures the personal data we are processing is:

- Adequate – sufficient to properly fulfil our stated purpose.
- Relevant – has a rational link to that purpose; and is.
- Limited to what is necessary – we do not hold more than we need for that purpose.

The UK GDPR does not define these terms. As this is the case, Prosum Medical Limited accepts these terms may have a differing definition from one individual to the other, as the processing will depend on the specified purpose for collecting and using the personal data.

7.2 In order to assess whether we are holding the right amount of personal data, we demonstrate clearly why we need it, before any data processing activities take place.

7.3 For special category data or criminal offence data, we understand the importance of collecting and retaining only the minimum amount of information.

7.4 Prosum Medical Limited undertakes an annual Data Protection Audit with an external certified and independent Data Protection Service Provider, to review our personal data processing, and to check that the personal data we hold is still relevant and adequate for the stated purposes.

8.0 Accuracy

8.1 Prosum Medical Limited will take all reasonable steps to ensure the personal data we hold is accurate and up to date.

8.2 Prosum Medical Limited will take reasonable steps to ensure that personal data we hold is correct. This may involve contacting you via our official communication channels, to ensure all personal data held is accurate.

8.3 Prosum Medical Limited will always record the source of where personal data came from and ensure the source is compliant with UK privacy laws, including the UK GDPR.

8.4 If we need to keep a record of a mistake, where we have clearly identified it as a mistake, we add this to our records of processing for audit purposes, and continuous improvement.

8.5 Prosum Medical Limited's records of processing clearly identify any matters of opinion, and where appropriate whose opinion it is, and any relevant changes to the underlying facts.

8.6 Prosum Medical Limited will comply with the individual's right to rectification and carefully consider any challenges to the accuracy of the personal data.

8.7 As a matter of good practice, we keep records of processing of any challenges to the accuracy of the personal data.

9.0 Storage Limitation and Deletion

9.1 Prosum Medical Limited will not keep personal data for any longer than is necessary to fulfil the original stated purpose for the processing of such personal data.

9.2 Prosum Medical Limited will only keep personal data for the period outlined to meet the requirements of the contract, legal obligation, or legitimate interest identified.

9.3 Any retention of personal data will be conducted in compliance with legal, professional body, and regulatory obligations. These data retention periods are subject to change, due to any revisions of associated legislation, regulations, or requirements.

9.4 Prosum Medical Limited acknowledges that UK privacy legislation does not determine how long personal data needs to be kept. This is up to the Data Controller to determine and document accordingly at the earliest possible opportunity.

9.5 Prosum Medical Limited has a personal data retention policy in place, which documents the categories of personal data we hold, what we use it for, and how long we intend to keep it.

9.6 Prosum Medical Limited periodically reviews the personal data we hold, and erases or anonymises it, when we no longer need to process it for the original purpose.

9.7 Prosum Medical Limited also considers any challenges to the retention of personal data. We understand that individuals have a right to erasure if we no longer need their personal data.

9.8 Prosum Medical Limited acknowledges there are exceptions to retention periods. Here we can keep personal data for longer if we are only keeping it for public interest archiving, scientific or historical research, or statistical purposes. We would always inform you if this were the case, along with our lawful basis for retention.

9.9 When Prosum Medical Limited is provided with an instruction to destroy data it must be destroyed irretrievably either in paper or electronic formats. Paper records will be destroyed by an approved contractor who can provide evidence of destruction and a certificate of destruction. Prosum Medical Limited will retain this certificate.

9.10 Prosum Medical Limited also has secure destruction procedures and processes for any of the devices it has used for the storage of personal data. Prosum Medical Limited will retain evidence of any equipment destruction and will confirm that the destruction is beyond any prospect of retrieving data stored within the device.

10.0 Data Transfer and Confidentiality (Security)

10.1 Prosum Medical Limited will undertake an analysis of the risks presented by our personal data processing and use this to assess the appropriate level of security we need to put in place. We review our Business Continuity Plan (BCP) and Incident Response Plan (IRP) annually.

10.2 We have an Information Security Policy and take steps to make sure the policy is implemented. We also undertake annual Information Security Reviews. We make sure that we regularly review our information security policies and measures and, where necessary, improve them.

10.3 Prosum Medical Limited make sure that we can restore access to personal data in the event of any data incidents or personal data breaches, by the implementation of an appropriate data backup procedure.

10.4 Prosum Medical Limited conducts regular penetration testing and reviews of our measures to ensure they remain effective, and act upon the results of those tests where they highlight areas for improvement or heightened risk.

10.5 Where appropriate and if applicable, we will implement measures that adhere to an approved code of conduct or certification mechanism, such as Cyber Essentials certification, and additional quality standards.

10.6 We ensure that any Data Processor we engage implements appropriate technical safeguards for all data.

10.7 Prosum Medical Limited does track website behaviour to offer Data Subjects an enhanced client experience and for organisational analytics. The UK GDPR and PECR interprets data collected by cookies as personal. It prohibits the collection of personal data without consent, which means a website is only allowed to collect information that the user voluntarily inputs. This includes name, email address, phone number, or any other information that the user shares with the website. The cookie consent must be freely given, specific, informed, and unambiguous. Further information about the use of cookies can be found in the Prosum Medical Limited Cookie Policy.

11.0 Accountability

11.1 Accountability is one of the UK GDPR data processing principles. Prosum Medical Limited takes our accountability commitments with the UK GDPR very seriously, as documented by this Privacy Notice.

11.2 Prosum Medical Limited has put in place several measures that we can, and in some cases must take, including:

- adopting and implementing data protection policies and procedures.
- taking a 'data protection by design and default' approach.
- putting written contracts in place with those whose personal data we control and process.
- maintaining documentation of our processing activities.
- implementing appropriate security measures.
- recording and, where necessary, reporting personal data breaches.
- conducting data protection impact assessments for uses of personal data that are likely to result in elevated risk to individual's interests.
- ensuring all Prosum Medical Limited's employees receive annual UK GDPR and privacy legislation training.
- appointing a certified and independent Data Protection Officer; and
- adhering to relevant codes of conduct and signing up to certification schemes (where applicable).

11.3 Prosum Medical Limited understand that accountability obligations are ongoing. We review and, where necessary, update the measures we have put in place. For example, we continually enhance our privacy management framework, as this can help embed our accountability measures and create a culture of privacy across our organisation.

11.4 Prosum Medical Limited understand that being accountable can help build trust with individuals and may help mitigate any gaps in compliance, and thus any potential regulatory enforcement action.

11.5 If you have any questions or concerns about how we process and protect your personal data not covered in this Privacy Notice please contact Prosum Medical Limited by email at info@prosummedical.co.uk.
